A Day At East Side

A typical day at East Side is not just your ordinary day. Students come to school as early as 8:00 in the morning to enjoy the fresh air and to meet their friends.

At 8:20 the doors of the school open and students in a frenzy rush to their lockers. While conversing in the hallways, the homeroom bell rings and the day begins. From that point on, serious studying begins and the student's will to learn grows intently. As each class ends, the hallways are swarmed with students laughing and chatting with one another before the next class.

The highlight of the day for every East Sider is lunch-time. It provides free time for every student not only for lunch but to talk with one another or use the time to study at the library.

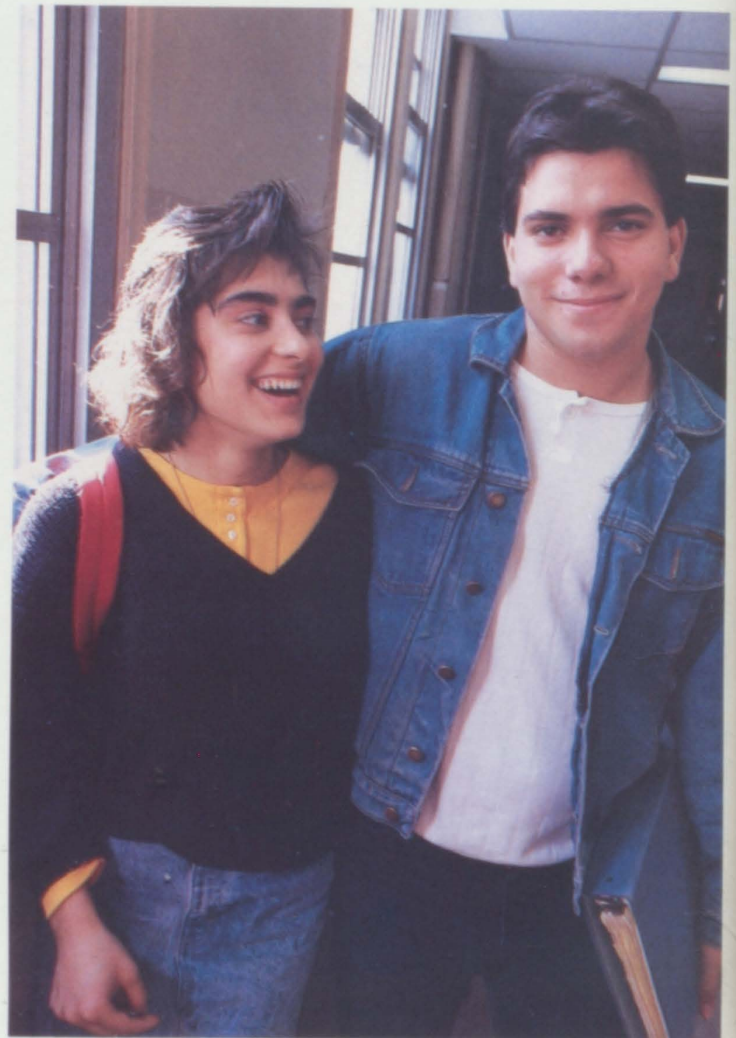

Anticipation grows as 2:30 approaches. Students exiting the building hurry off to work, participate in clubs or athletic activities, and still others hang out in the park. So you see, East Siders combine education with laughter and excitement.

Making the Grade

High school is the place students learn to set goals. Those who wish to have a satisfying career in the future have realized that working hard pays off. To apply to college or a specialty school they must first achieve ideals at East Side. Then they will be ready for the real world and any obstacles set before them.

Every day students enjoy meeting and joking with friends, but then must ready themselves for work. The curriculum provided at East Side can be quite challenging. The teachers try their best to open the minds and hold the interest of their students. Book reports, math assignments, and tough tests are just a few of the methods they use to assist us in our pursuit of one thing — a good education.

Looking Back

If you ask East Side seniors what they remember most about their high school years, you will surely hear as many different answers, as there are different and distinct personalities who attended this school. However, you may discover that many of the replies will sound familiar, almost second guessing your own.

Most will look back and think of their friends, their classes, and their teachers. Some will remember all the activities and parties they attended; many of that special boyfriend or girlfriend. Others might remember the good times they had doing mischievous things, like cutting school. It doesn't make much difference because these are usual high school memories. What makes them special in this instance is that they were enjoyed and shared at East Side High School.

Let The Good Times Roll

On the evening of November 1, 1987 we went to the U.S.A. Roller Skating Rink in Wayne, N.J. The event began at 9:00 p.m. However, East Side seniors eagerly waited to gain entrance in the cold night air much earlier.

After they entered the rink, many hurriedly rented their skates and strapped them on. The music echoed throughout the place. Who was going to be the first skater? A few kids ventured onto the skating floor which soon became crowded. Facial expressions showed uncertainty but their lively spirits insured a good time.

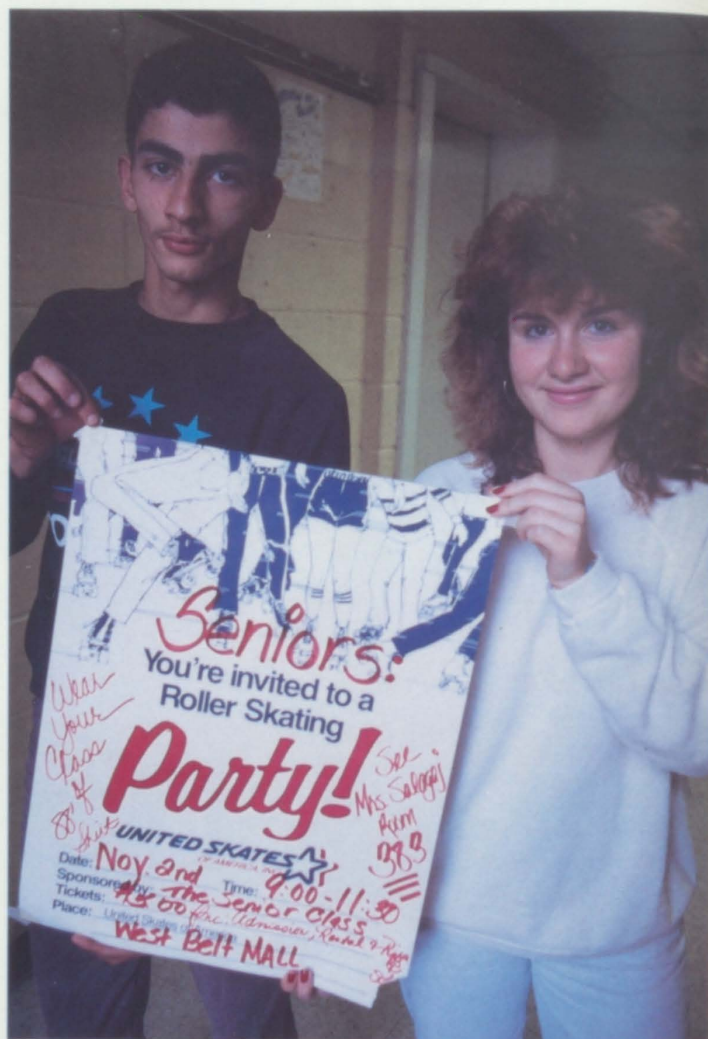

The rest of the night was simply fun. The music intensified. Faster and faster they skated. An occasional fall did not stop these fearless skaters. They rose with dignity, continued skating and never looked back.

As the evening came to a close, many were reluctant to leave. "It was great. Let's get Mrs. Salagaj to have another roller skating party soon!" said one senior. With goodbyes and kisses everyone departed, taking with them special memories of a wonderful night.

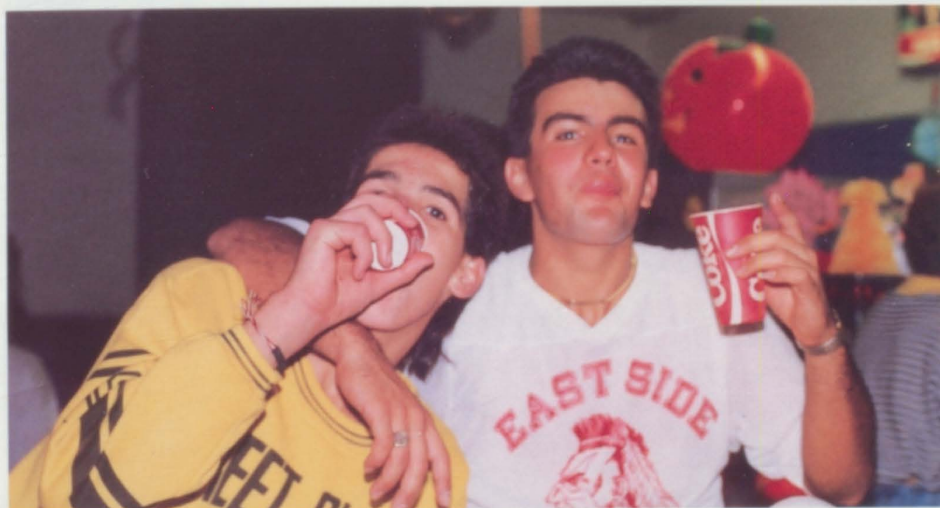

John Rodriquez and Sandra Caetano publicize the first senior class activity — the Roller Skating Party.

Since she's on the floor already, Marisol Vasquez decides to take five.

Michelle Goncalves, Richie Costeira and Helena Rainho figure "the more the merrier."

"Hail, hail, the gang's all here!"

Luis Faustino and Manny Catarino toast to the festivities.

Gary Melo and Dewesee Johnson surprise everyone with their singing talents as they perform "Wipe Out."

Forever Young

Paul Silva and Leticia Cordero meet at the buffet table.

Suzana Soares and Nuno Pires start the evening with an appetizer.

The eligible bachelors — Carmelo Torres, Anthony Mero, Mario Correia and Rui Soares.

Forever Young

The tables were arranged and the red carpet was laid out. Everyone had been waiting impatiently for this night to arrive. Months and months of planning went into this gala.

May 1, 1987 would be an evening of enchantment at the Mediterranean Manor. At first, the junior prom was just a fantasy, but now it became a reality. As the limousines, filled with happy faces, approached the entrance of the restaurant, bulbs of cameras flashed from all directions. Everyone knew that would remain in their memories forever.

The climax of this spectacular evening occurred when the theme song "Forever Young" was played. Everyone danced quietly cheek to cheek.

Just as Cinderella returned to the real world at midnight, so did these couples return to being white horses and pumpkins. The fairy tale had ended on a happy note.

Anabel Da Silva puts the finishing touches on her date.

Chris Cavallo and Anna Canzona prepare to make their grand entrance.

Famous Favorites '87

Stars were born! April 3rd and 4th were nights to remember. East Side was proud to present its annual fashion show. It was a night of glamour and excitement.

The audience grew impatient and the cast became nervous. The curtain was about to ring up. Months and months of preparation had gone into this production. Students under the direction of Mr. Krolin performed as they never had before.

There were numerous acts. The audience saw representations of everything from the Supremes to Billy Idol.

The students outdid themselves as they modeled the latest fashions of the year. Chic sportswear, daring swimwear and glittering eveningwear were shown.

The audience applauded heartily as the show came to a close. An exhausted but exhilarated cast basked in its triumph.

"Look at me, I'm Sandra Dee," sings Daisy Vaz.

Cast members in a Fashion Freeze.

"Unexpected lovers;" Tony (Red) Pereira and Gloria Barroqueiro.

Celeste Narcisco lipsyncs to "Gloria" by Laura Branigan.

"Don't even try it!" shrieks Claudia Santos.

Richard Costeira gives up his struggle to swim.

Orlando Campos and Red Pereira display their wild side.

Splish Splash We Were Havin' A Bash!

It was a night for the guys to show their psychedelic shorts and the girls their teeny weeny bikinis. Only East Siders would dare to be different by wearing their summer best in the middle of winter.

At first, the Junior Splash Party was tinged with awkwardness. Traditional toe-dipping in the water took place. But soon enough the pool was filled with bright smiling faces and the uncanny East Side spirit shone through. If you didn't look over your shoulder now and then, you would find yourself taking an unexpected bath.

There were activities to suit everyone's taste: relaxing in the sauna, dancing, enjoying the buffet, or joining the conga line in the pool.

As the party was ending, it was difficult to convince the pruny people to come out of the water. After all, we needed time to prepare to leave the tropical environment provided by Holiday Inn to bear the 30° weather outside. The Splash Party was our first taste of the privileges of being "upperclassmen" and certainly one of the most memorable.

The crowd that swims together, stays together.

Making Waves

A cold and dreary night lured East Side Seniors to the only place where excitement was brewing. The Date — December 4, 1987, The Time — 7:30 p.m., The Place — Holiday Inn. It's Partytime!

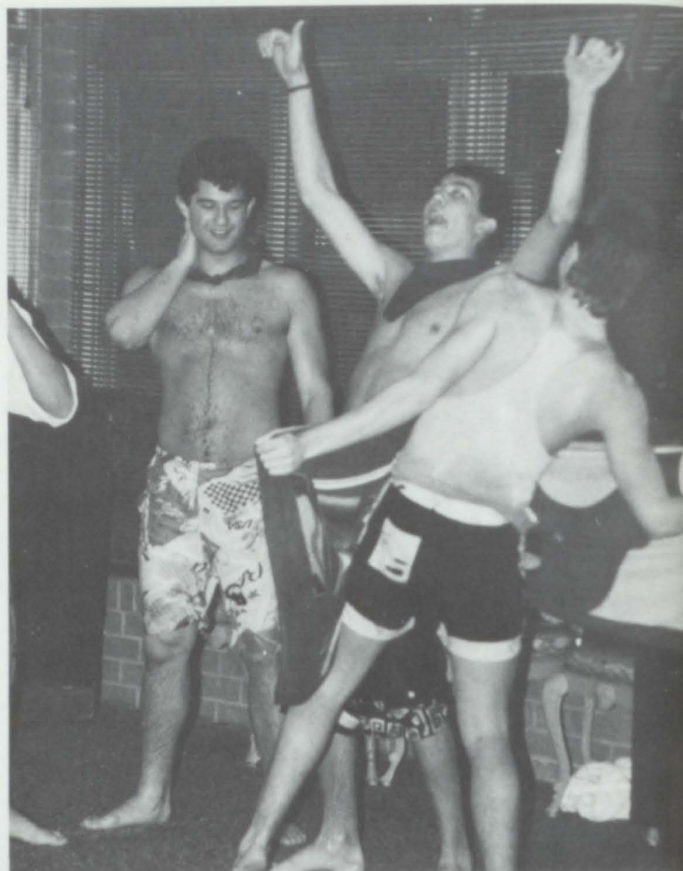

The Senior Splash Party was wild from the beginning. Those near the pool unrobed to display outlandish swimwear. Some lounged with their friends, while others dived in the water. All were entertained by the "Surfin-Turfin" tunes from the D. J. Booth.

The sauna provided a warm atmosphere away from the pool frolics. "The Box" gave many a chance to relax.

Grumbling stomachs were satisfied by the tempting buffet. Manners were forgotten in the rush to eat quickly and return to the pool. Some daredevils attempted difficult leaps and dives but most played beachball or just splashed around.

As the evening came to a close rain drizzled outside, but it did not spoil anyone's memory of the Senior Splash Party.

Student Government

The senior class officers and their representatives have a difficult job that entails much responsibility. They must plan all the senior activities and see that everything is well organized. They hold fund raisers by selling chocolate, sweat-shirts, stuffed animals and various other things. Under the guidance and leadership of class advisor Mrs. Salagaj and the dedication of our officers and representatives, our senior year was a memorable one.

The Student Council is a group of very dedicated individuals. Every year they succeed in giving East Side students a reason to be proud of their school. They have sponsored food drives for the needy. They organized Senior and Junior Recognition Days to rally school spirit. They also operate the popular Trading Post. Advised by Mrs. Matarrazo, the Student Council is a great asset to East Side.

National Honor Society Members Selected

The National Honor Society is dedicated to the high standards of scholarship, service, leadership and character. Membership in the National Honor Society is both an honor and responsibility. Students may not apply for membership, it is granted only to those students selected by the faculty council. Students selected for membership are expected to continue to demonstrate the qualities set by the Honor Society. The society recognizes those students who not only excel in scholarship but also demonstrate strong character, exhibit qualities of leadership, along with service to school and community. For the school year 1987-1988, Dr. HelenMarie Pellegrino is the advisor.

Higher Math

The Tessellations Club consists of a group of exceptional students who devote their leisure time to math. You may find to your disbelief some of the most absurd facts concerning the origin of mathematics or even end up tied in knots when you attend a meeting. The club also competes in the NJ Mathematics League. This allows the students to excel in a competitive atmosphere amongst other high schools in the state. During the course of the year the students hold fund raisers to provide income to finance their annual trip. Some of the places the club has visited are Washington, DC and Philadelphia, Pa.

Volleyball Club

Our most innovative and unprecedented club is the volleyball club. It's great fun and a perfect after school sport to engage in. The club is separated into six teams which compete competitively with one another. This allows the students to burn off some steam after a hard day's work of school. Small payments are paid by each player to provide trophies for their accomplishments and perhaps a festive party. Once you are enrolled into the club you may never want to leave it.

The Track Club

This club is different from any other. It's goal is sending the cross-country and track teams on as many out of state meets as possible. The purpose is to expose the teams to different environments of competition. The club supports the love and competing ambition of the team by having fundraisers such as selling calendars, pins, and putting on dances. All this support is worthwhile, as our East Side track team continues to hold a winning record. Mr. Ollie Dickerson — advisor, Ana Cravo — president, Sandra Martins — vice president, Ligia Cravo — secretary, Marie Barbosa — treasurer.

One of the largest clubs is the Portuguese Club. They have approximately sixty-five members. Mrs. Duarte is the advisor. She and her officers plan many trips and activities. They have a folk dancing group which has performed at Montclair college and other affairs. The club raises money by selling candy, pens, folders, and sweatshirts to present awards and scholarships to outstanding students in the Portuguese language. Some members even contribute their time to the Portuguese Literary Magazine, "Os Académicos."

The 1987-1988 school year saw the formation of the first National Art Honor Society Chapter at East Side High School Newark, NJ, through the generous support of Mr. Robert H. Wujciak, principal. At the first meeting members were enthusiastic and various ideas for activities were discussed. The first major fall project was the chapter's participation in the "We Love Newark" poster contest. In December plans were put into effect for a fund-raiser, a candy sale. Through this sale the chapter could then meet several goals; the first of which was a donation to a community project, the Grater Newark Christmas Fund, as well as for the purchase of the National Art Society items. In January a second poster dealing with "Brotherhood Week" was undertaken by the members and certificates of participation were received by Paul Cerqueira, Lionel Costa and Catarina Dias. March brought a third poster project dealing with the "Art of Recycling" which was greeted with much enthusiasm by the members. Some additional service activities planned for the remainder of the school year include helping with each month's bulletin board display in the media center. Maria Bastos and Catarina Dias began this service project in February. Selection and preparation of art work for the Van Buren Branch Library and the school lobby showcase in conjunction with your art month in March continues to keep Paul Cerqueira, Silvie Suri and Susy Santos busy. Plans are also underway for April to feature an "Artist of the Month" and the chapter selected Picasso for this study project. This will be coordinated by Carlos Costa, Lionel Costa and Celia Carvalho.

Budding Talents

If you are interested in developing your skills in acting, dancing, lipsync-ing or modeling, then the Drama Club is for you. The advisor, Mr. Krolin, provides information to help members learn about play production and acting techniques. He believes that practical experience is the best teacher. Towards the end of the year, the Drama Club presents their annual fashion show. They always succeed in presenting an exciting and professional show.

The Stage Crew, a behind the scenes club, has a very important job. They set up for all the East Side assembly programs. They handle the equipment, control the curtains and provide special effects. With their assistance all the school productions go on without a hitch.

More Than Just Fun

Working on the yearbook staff can be a lot of fun. Sorting through pictures and selecting their placement in the book can be a rewarding task. Each member contributes his or her talents to special sections of the book.

However, organizing a yearbook can also be one big headache: approaching deadlines, early morning meetings and plain hard work. One thing you do learn by the time the year is through is the art of compromise. One person alone does not create a great yearbook. It is the result of many people's dedication and best effort. When the book is finally complete, our only reward is the satisfaction of a job well done and the hope that all will enjoy it.

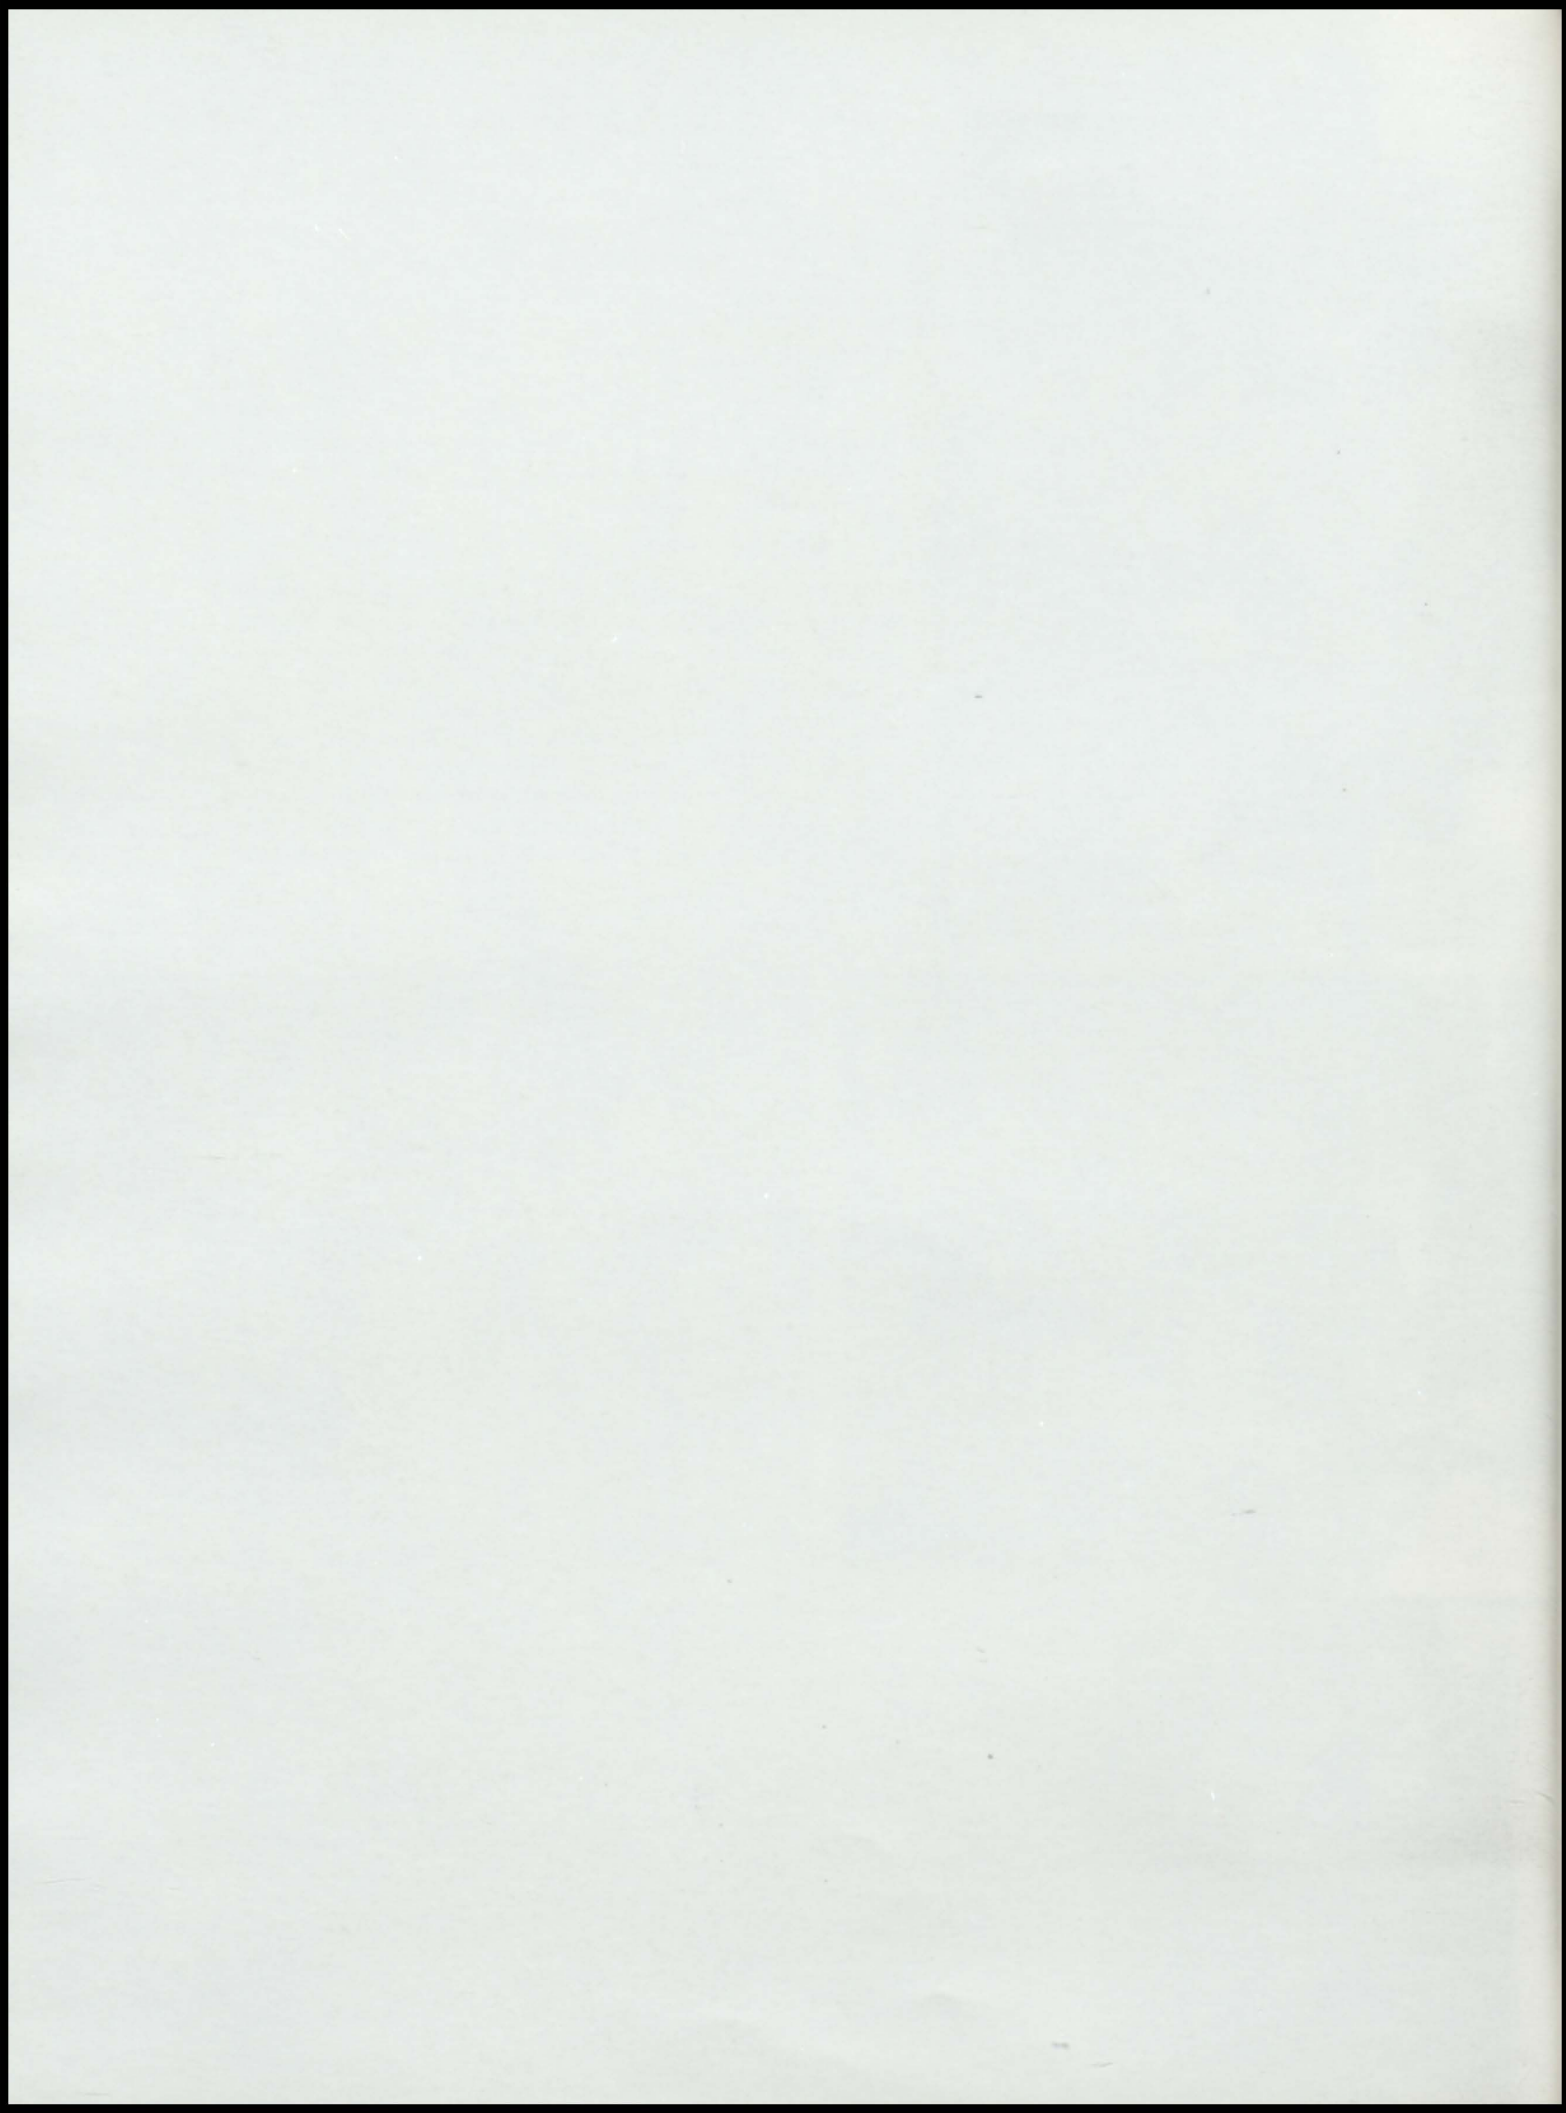

Making sure they are both satisfied with their layout Anabela Da Silva and Maria Velestegui give it a final check.

Hard working typists Karen Suarez, Marie Barbosa, Sue Cunha and Dawn Blaszak.

Our first rate student photographers, Albino Bola and Elmina Soares, provided most of the memorable pictures appearing in the book.

East Side Winter Guard

East Side is one of only two east coast winterguards that come from inner-city schools. While most high school winterguards receive financial support from their school systems, East Side has been almost totally self-supporting from the start. Winterguard practice starts as soon as school begins in the fall, and continues through the end of May. During that time the guard practices at least 4 days a week, and 2 hours a day. Members are also encouraged to participate in all aspects of school life. Each year several members are elected as class or student council officers, and there is always at least 1 editor on the school newspaper from the guard. The East Side Winterguard provides a special opportunity for its members. It enables them to grow, to succeed, and to interact with young people from across the country. We take great pride in the continuing success of this exciting program.

In Memoriam

The Class of 1988 respectfully dedicates its yearbook to the memory of Donato "Pete" Del Guercio. Mr. Del Guercio served East Side well and long, earning the respect of his colleagues and the love of his students.

Mr. Del Guercio began teaching in Newark as an elementary teacher in 1953. His career was interrupted in 1956 when he enlisted in the United States Coast Guard. Mr. Del Guercio resumed his teaching career in 1958, earned a Master's Degree at Seton Hall University, taught physical education and coached football at Malcolm X Shabazz High School before coming to East Side as department chairperson and football coach.

Mr. Del Guercio was taken from us suddenly in June, 1987. We miss him but we shall always remember him.

Through the years, East Side has progressed academically and physically, offering her students a greater opportunity to excel in a pleasant environment. Just a few years ago, two new buildings were constructed and attached to the original building.

New programs were added to the curriculum. Among these were the A.P. English and E.S.O.P. programs. These additions were brought about in part by the efforts of the present administration, who work industriously to encourage all students to achieve their endeavors. The administration is an integral factor which contributes to continued high standards of performance among East Siders.

Guidance Department

Youth may be described with one term: confusion. Teenagers are continuously faced with decisions, but are many times unsure of themselves. That's where the assistance of a guidance counselor is vital.

The guidance department aids students in figuring out their schedules, making college choices, inquiring about special student opportunities and even listening to personal problems a student may have. Most importantly, they prepare students for the complex problems of the future.

ARTS and MUSIC

Looking back in time, we can see that music and art have always been an important and enriching part of life. Primitive man, however crudely, showed his appreciation for the arts. As time has passed we have continued to demonstrate this appreciation for the fine arts. Through the improvement of technique and interpretation of life, art has added to our culture.

Creative talents should not go unnoticed, therefore students are encouraged to express their artistic abilities by taking courses in fine or graphic arts, photography or music performance. They are to be commended for their success in these areas.

English Department

Developing an intellectual mind is a top priority at East Side. Students sample various literary styles and types of writing, broaden vocabulary, write, speak in standard English, and exercise their own creative talents.

From William Shakespeare's complex characters to Edgar Allan Poe's chilling short stories, students learn of the diverse cultural characteristics reflected in their works as well as the differences in thought occurring in each era.

With the encouragement of the English Department, our students become adept at attaining those intellectual pursuits.

Mathematics Department

Mathematics such as Pythagoras, Euclid, and Archemides established theorems and axioms which have helped us to solve mathematical problems which have arisen during the course of time.

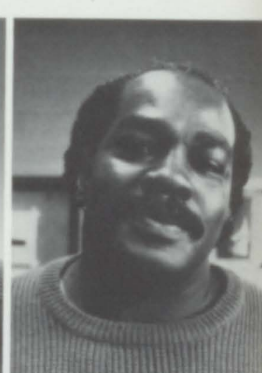

To prepare students for the many mathematical integrated fields which exist today, East Side offers courses in Algebra, Geometry, Calculus, Trigonometry, and Computer mathematics. Apart from learning formulas and theorems, students may also learn such programming languages as Basic or Pascal.

When presented with complex problems in the future, students will be able to formulate logical solutions using the knowledge from these math courses.

Physical Education and Health

Developing a healthy mind and body is essential to function properly in today's world. Students are offered the opportunity to relieve their tensions through exercise. They take part in sports such as volleyball, softball, basketball, and soccer. Not only do students exercise their bodies, but also scoring procedures and terms pertaining to these sports. Best of all they learn to share their victories and defeats with their teammates.

In health classes, students are taught about the human body and its afflictions, first aid procedures and every teenager's necessity — driver's education. They also learn about relationships and matrimonial commitments.

Business Department

With the increasing high tech demands of contemporary society, such office skills as typing, bookkeeping, and stenography can be beneficial. Knowledge of those skills provide the individual with the essential qualifications to find employment in the business world.

Our business department focuses on those skills and producing accurate students who can function in a fast-paced environment. The recent incorporation of computers in our business department has also enabled students to become literate in word processing and adaptable to operating modern office machines.

History Department

History has always been said to repeat itself. Through the years we have offered our students the opportunity to analyze this statement by providing such courses as World History, U.S. History, Psychology and Sociology. From ancient to contemporary times, students are introduced to the events and ideas which formulated world policy.

Social Studies is more than just historical facts. It is the study of people and their interaction with one another. Through sociology and psychology students are able to understand themselves and others better.

Foreign Languages and Bilingual

The Romance Languages constitute our Foreign Language Department. Students learn to speak different languages and also learn about the countries and cultures pertaining to these languages. The study of a foreign language is helpful in finding a job, traveling, or communicating with others. Most importantly, it offers us a better understanding of other cultures.

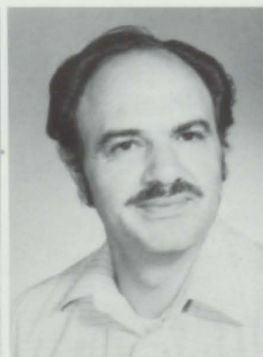

The cultural diversity among the immigrants of our community makes it difficult for them to adapt to different American customs and traditions. Adjusting to the dominant culture and way of life can be challenging. Bilingual classes may facilitate their transition by enabling students to learn English and to adjust to their new environment.

Class Advisor Mrs. Salagaj

As our senior year comes to a close, our hearts overflow with affection and appreciation for our class advisor, Mrs. Salagaj, who has made our last two years at East Side most memorable.

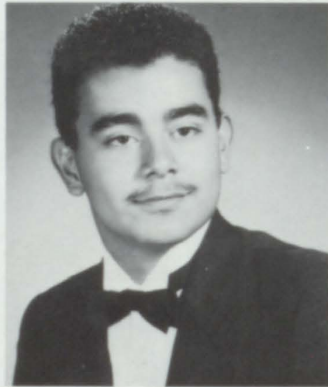

Mrs. Salagaj has devoted herself to the senior class. She has created cherished memories by organizing successful roller-skating parties, splash parties, and the junior and senior proms. These activities were made possible through her creative fund-raisers which involved the sale of candy, teddy bears, sweatshirts, jerseys, and holiday treats. She has passed on her enthusiasm to us and has made our journey through high school an adventure in itself.

As we prepare to say goodbye, we'd like to thank her once again for her guidance, patience, and, most of all, her love. Her efforts and accomplishments will always be remembered.

Better Than Best

E.S.H.S.'s 1988 valedictorian is ... Ana Teixeira. She's intelligent and a determined achiever. Ana's optimism has guided her throughout high school and played a major role in her successful status. She is an active member of the Tesselations Club, yearbook staff and National Honor Society.

Apart from the school scene, Ana is a volunteer tutor for the I.E.C.C. She has won the Bausch and Lomb Science Award, the Senator Lautenberg Scholarship and the Optimist Club Award.

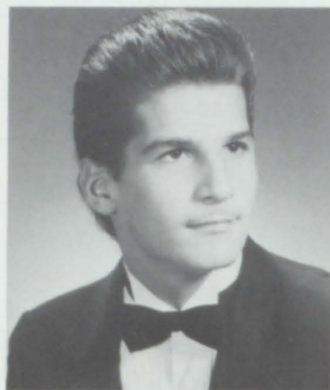

Ana reveals that her secret to success is confronting and overcoming every challenge. Studying plays an important part, but so does ambition.

Ana hopes to attend New York University to major in international business. No matter what she does, we know she will be "better than best."

Leatha Brennan "Lee": Nutcracker Suite, Idol, West Side Story, not attending class.

Sandra Caetano "Sandy": The Power of Love, I Won't Forget You, U2, Dirty Dancing, crazy times with crazy friends, "snorgees."

Second Time Around

Two has been a lucky number for Rosa Tomas. She is this year's salutatorian and was also the salutatorian of Oliver St. School in 1984.

She came to East Side in the sophomore year and has devoted much of her time and effort to excellent grades. She is the vice president of the Tessellations Club, member of the yearbook staff and a senior class representative.

Rosa has no set plans except to attend college with a liberal arts background. To be dedicated to study habits is the key to success in school is her advice. Following that same advice and playing her cards right, she'll win every time.

Raquel Cagley "Ceza": Don't Take You Love From Me, Lydia Love, West Side Story, The Sound of Music, Karen, crazy friends and Mr. Toson.

Lasting Impression

She is chief editor of the yearbook staff, vice-president of the National Honor Society, ranked third of the class of 1988, and also has participated in the volleyball, computer and civics clubs. We are referring to none other than Dina Reverendo.

Since her freshman year she has demonstrated her academic excellence. Aside from her scholarly image, Dina is a warm-hearted, loyal and dedicated individual. She plans to attend Rutgers University to pursue a career in journalism.

Throughout her high school years, Dina has been a unique student and she undoubtedly will set goals to mark each as a new beginning of her achievements.

Picture This . . .

Typical girl next door, all American Californian and president of the National Honor Society — Elmina Soares, ranked fourth among our graduating class.

She underwent a great transition period in adapting to a totally new and different high school atmosphere.

She has competed on the East Side volleyball team, is one of the photographers on the yearbook staff and member of the ski club.

Elmina aspires to attend New York University to major in international business. She has always done things for herself in order that they may be completed her way, and will definitely cross that road to each successful encounter.

Daniel Cordeiro "Danny": Save a Prayer, Modern Talking, Breakfast Club, my friends, my gym class, senior year.

Leticia Cordero "Ti-Ti": Running, Cover Girls, Three Men and a Baby, cutting class with Twanna and Jackie, running away from the guard.

Ready For The Future

Everyone knows that confidence and determination is needed to attain one's goals. It's worked for Marisol Vazquez who is ranked number five.

Marisol is a friendly, quiet and intelligent individual. She's a hardworking student who doesn't quit until she has achieved her personal best.

Her goal is to pursue a pharmaceutical career. She has participated in a summer program at the University of Medicine and Dentistry. Through this she has realized that a pharmacist is what she really wants to be.

She plans to attend Rutgers University. We wish her luck and know that she will excel in all she does.

In Paul We Trust

Paul Varino has found a way to balance schoolwork with his responsibilities as Treasurer of the Senior Class. Paul's hard work and perseverance has accredited him with being ranked ninth in the Senior Class.

He is said to be one who sets an example for everyone by demonstrating qualities such as leadership and integrity. He has devoted much of his time to serving as a volunteer for the I.E.C.C. Tutorial Program.

Paul plans to attend Rutgers University to major in Business and Finance. He certainly has the potential and earnestness to become "somebody" rather than a "nobody."

The Perfect Ten

Carmelo Torres is a loyal, and perceptive individual. These are just some of the many qualities Carmelo possesses. He is ranked number ten in this year's graduating class.

Carmelo's accomplishments range from academics to athletics. He has been a member of the computer and Tessallations clubs. He also competed on the Ironbound Boy Scouts Soccer Team and later became coach. Carmelo attended Boys' State last year and feels this experience taught him to interact with other exceptional students in a competitive atmosphere.

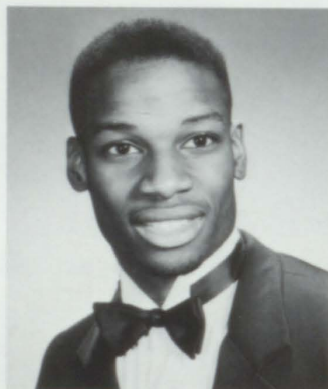

Carmelo hopes to perhaps attend Rutgers University to major in education. We all know Carmelo will live up to his ideal status.

Governor's Conference.

On December 15, 1987, three members of our yearbook staff — Dina Reverendo, Elmina Soares, and Ana Teixeira attended the fourth annual Governor's press conference for high school editors in Trenton. They were accompanied by Advisor Mr. Di Francesco.

The morning was spent listening to four members of the New Jersey media answering questions from students all over the state. The high point came when the governor, Thomas Kean, arrived. Many issues were discussed, but he placed emphasis on education, stating that "I don't believe any state can offer a richer education (than N.J.)." It was a great opportunity for us to witness the governor's candor and genuine concern about the issues. It was a day to remember.

Fund Raisers

The last two years have been filled with pleasant treats. Students and faculty members with a sweet tooth satisfied their cravings with our Hershey chocolate and Easter candy. There were plenty of adorable clip-ons and stuffed animals and the Christmas Holiday was greeted with a collection of ornaments and supplies. To boost school spirit, class jerseys and sweat-shirts were also sold.

Thanks to Mrs. Salagaj; the class representatives and those who supported the class of '88 by buying these items, our fund-raisers were a great success.

East Side Day

The Student Council on two occasions gave East Siders a chance to express how happy they were to be at our school. The "I am proud to be an East Sider" days were highlighted by special assemblies that only those dressed in red and white could attend. The first one centered on a raffle and the choosing of a Mr. and Ms. East Side. The second was mostly a pep rally for our school baseball, track and tennis teams. Both were a lot of fun and boosted school spirit.

Forever Young

May God bless and keep you always,
May your wishes all come true,
May you always do for others
And let others do for you.
May you build a ladder to the stars,
And climb on every rung,
May you stay forever young.

May you grow up to be righteous,
May you grow up to be true,
May you always know the truth
And see the lights surrounding you.
May you always be courageous,
Stand upright and be strong,
May you stay forever young.

May your hands always be busy,
May your feet always be swift,
May you have a strong foundation
When the winds of changes shift.
May your heart always be joyful,
May your song always be sung,
May you stay forever young.

Wishing all of you
the best

FRIENDS FOREVER

We've been friends from the beginning, friends from the start.
You have always been there, always, in my heart/
Best friends are for keeps, for always and forever,
I guess that explains why we're always together.
When you cry, I cry. When you laugh, I laugh.
You are my reason, my guide, my better half.
We have been through so much, both good and bad.
We have come through so many fights, we've had.
When I feel the need to talk, you have an ear to lend
For that I am grateful, I love you,
You're my BEST FRIEND.

The Year In Review

1988 — A year of ups and downs: Scandals in televangelism — Jim and Tammy Bakker, Jimmy Swaggart; scandals in high government places — Secord, Oliver North, Poindexter, President Reagan “forgetting” what he was told of the Iran Contra affair; scandal among presidential hopefuls — Gary Hart and Donna Rice, Pat Robertson and premarital relations with wife; disappointment at the Winter Olympics — only one gold medal won — Brian Boitano and one silver won by Debbie Thomas; the aids virus has become an epidemic with no cure to be found; The Twanna Brawley Case — The Robert Chambers and Jennifer Levin Case and the validity of surrogate motherhood. Among the positive things were — Baby Jessica’s rescue from the well — the Papal visit to the US — Moscow Summit — Princess Fergie has a baby — the Devils made the Playoffs — Venus kissed the moon — Bicentennial of Constitution — Cher won an Oscar — first test-tube baby in US was born.
